Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments, see pages 6-9, filed after final on 5/18/2011 and entered with the RCE filed on 6/20/2011, with respect to claims 1, 10, and 11 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The previous rejection of claims 1, 4, 5, and 7-11 has been withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

Claim 11 sets forth a "computer program product comprising a computer readable medium having a computer program recorded thereon." However, the specification as originally filed does not explicitly define a computer program product comprising a computer readable medium having a computer program recorded thereon, merely reciting the identical language contained in claim 11 without elaborating on the types of media that are encompassed (the last paragraph of the Summary section in the Applicant's Specification). The United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO) is obliged to give claims their broadest reasonable interpretation consistent with the specification during proceedings before the USPTO. See In re Zletz, 893 F.2d 319 (Fed. Cir. 1989) (during patent examination the pending claims must be interpreted as broadly as their terms reasonably allow). The broadest reasonable interpretation of a claim drawn to a computer readable medium (also called machine readable medium and other such variations) typically covers forms of non-transitory tangible media and transitory propagating signals per se in view of the ordinary and customary meaning of computer readable media, particularly when the specification is absent an explicit definition or is silent. See MPEP 2111.01. When the broadest reasonable interpretation of a claim covers a signal per se, the claim must be rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 101 as covering non-statutory subject matter. See In re Nuijten, 500 F.3d 1346, 1356-57 (Fed. Cir. 2007)

(transitory embodiments are not directed to statutory subject matter) and Interim Examination Instructions for Evaluating Subject Matter Eligibility Under 35 U.S.C. § 101, Aug. 24, 2009; p. 2.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1, 4, 5, 7-10, and 12 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art of record fails to teach or suggest the method and apparatus recited in independent claims 1 and 10, respectively. Claims 4, 5, 7-9, and 12 are dependent upon independent claim 1, and therefore are also allowed.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
